Dear Partner,

In March, we celebrated the 25th anniversary of the first Vision & Values mailer. It's hard to believe that the inspiration for what is now The Center for Vision & Values has been around for a quarter of a century. The end of this academic year marks 13 years that I have had the honor and pleasure to serve as the Center's executive director.

As you know, we set the standard high and continue to build upon our mission of strengthening the faith and freedom foundation of American citizenship.

We are a strong voice.

Since 2005, we have held 11 annual Ronald Reagan lectures featuring guests such as Michael Reagan, Bill Bennett, Art Laffer, Ed Meese, Peggy Grande, Herb Meyer, and more—over 5,000 people have attended these lectures. We've also held 11 annual conferences on timely topics such as the American family, communism & socialism, faith and freedom, higher education, citizenship and the American cause, the media, and more—over 2,000 guests and students have attended these conferences.

Also, since 2005, we've had 93 Grove City College students become Student Fellows at the Center. After graduation, these students have gone on to spectacular careers all across the world. Many have gone on to law school and many others have taken policy jobs with: The Heritage Foundation, National Review Institute, the Tax Institute, Intercollegiate Studies Institute, Foundation for Economic Education, Atlas Network, Manhattan Institute for Public Policy Research, and many more.

These are just a few of our programs, events, and outreach. Our scholarship has reached millions of proud Americans just like you on a weekly basis.

Some exciting changes are on the horizon for the Center.

We are pleased to announce that we have rebranded our American Founders Luncheon Series. Beginning with the December 2018 luncheon, the widely popular event will be titled "Foundations of American Leadership." While we will occasionally still discuss the importance of the brave men and women of the American founding, this transformation will allow us to broaden our discussion topics and highlight many more Americans who have made significant contributions to our nation.

To kick off the new series we look back 20 years to December 1998. Grove City College President Paul J. McNulty '80—who had a front row seat as the Chief Counsel and Director of Communications for the Clinton impeachment proceedings—will give us a firsthand account of what took place two decades ago between Congress and the White House. McNulty will discuss "20 Years Later: An Inside Look at the Clinton Impeachment and the Clash on Capitol Hill." This is going to be a fantastic event—we hope to see you there!

Clearly, we are proud of the work we have done and the impact we have had. But we don't want to stop there. In fact, not only are we expanding our regional and on-campus programs for the 2018-19 academic year but we are also looking to establish more of a presence in Washington, D.C.

Our sense is, now more than ever, there is a great need for more V&V in D.C. We are exploring the possibility of expanding to a D.C. office in order to increase the Center's impact—and we are looking for your input. Drop us a line or write your thoughts down and enclose it in the envelope with this letter. We'd love to hear your thoughts on our opportunity to be a more significant voice for freedom in the public square.

We are a strong voice—but we can be an even stronger voice to the nation.

This is an exciting and unique time in the history of the Center. With friends like you helping, we can continue to be the strong voice for faith and freedom in America.

Will you be our partner as we work hard to strengthen our voice of faith, freedom, and liberty? We ask that you come alongside us as we continue to offer our rich programming as well as endeavor to expand. Will you consider giving a tax deductible gift today so we can continue these remarkable programs at the Center for Vision & Values?

Thank you and God bless you,
